

Pax Christi Catholic Church

Dear Pax Christi,

We wanted to share with you the most recent update we received from the Diocese this week in regard to Covid policies. The Diocese has set these policies based on what we assume the Governor will announce this Friday, June 11. This is tentative until we hear them directly from the Governor, however, we wanted to be sure to give you a heads up.

The following message is from The Diocese of Lexington:

On June 11, 2021 most of the restrictions that have been required by the Commonwealth of Kentucky for safe gatherings during the pandemic will be lifted. This does not mean that the pandemic is over, but it does mean that substantial numbers of people have been vaccinated and that policies will allow for more local flexibility in determining what is necessary for the common good and the safety of the largest number of people. As long as the pandemic remains a reality, all directives are subject to change.

State-wide there will be no more requirements for social distancing or wearing masks. This will apply to our churches as well. However, in counties where the percentage of those who are fully vaccinated remains low, parishes may wish to continue to call for some form of social distancing or spaced seating.

We should continue to encourage everyone to become fully vaccinated. Masks are recommended for those who are not fully vaccinated and should still be worn when in groups in close proximity if not all have been vaccinated.

Here at Pax Christi it will take a number of weeks to prepare to fully implement the new possibilities that are opening up. Please pay close attention to all the communications we send you.

Thanks. And God Bless Us All.

Fr. Pat
